OPVP APPOINTS PEARLINE KIRK AS THE NEW CONTROLLER

WINDOW ROCK – President Russell Begaye and Vice President Jonathan Nez have appointed Pearline Kirk as the Controller for the Navajo Nation.

Kirk is a licensed Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and holds a Juris Doctor from Arizona State University. She comes to the Nation from the Lewis, Brisbois, Bisgaard & Smith LLP law firm in Los Angeles, CA.

“We are fortunate to have Ms. Kirk come aboard as our Controller. Her vast experience in Navajo Nation law, taxation and budget will greatly benefit our Nation as we move forward,” said President Begaye.

Kirk served as the director of Finance/Chief Financial Officer for five years with the Colville Tribal Federal Corporation. This diverse holding company has over 500 employees. Her responsibilities included all aspects of financial reporting of over $120M revenues including the businesses of casinos, convenience stores, grocery stores, tobacco stores, construction and a cabin resort.

Kirk’s financial experience includes managing over $250 million, including $45 million real estate based private equity lending for acquisition and developments, $68 million syndicated gaming finance/refinance, $40 million of bailout corporate finance/refinance/revolving financing, and construction finance of over $4 million for retail, gas and convenience stores.

“Ms. Kirk will uphold the ethics and responsibility required of her as a licensed-CPA for the Navajo Nation Office of the Controller,” said Vice President Nez.

President Begaye said he is proud to have a Navajo tribal member return to work for the Nation.

“We know that Ms. Kirk is an asset for the tribe and she will help us tremendously,” he said.

Kirk will start her position on Monday, Feb. 13, 2017.
