

www.az211.gov

Arizona 2-1-1 Online helps you find information about local emergencies and health and human services

Public Safety Resources

Emergency Information: Arizona 2-1-1 Online is your official source for timely information during natural or man-made emergencies, such as wildland fires, floods, water shortages, and evacuations.

Preparedness: Arizona 2-1-1 Online provides tips to help you prepare for emergencies.

Health & Human Service Information

More Than a Directory: Arizona 2-1-1 Online describes thousands of childcare, health care, senior services, counseling, and other health and human service programs and government resources. It provides eligibility information, helpful tips and links to key web sites for more detailed information.

Searching is Easy: Arizona 2-1-1 Online is easy for the public to use. It also has features for caseworkers and other helping professionals.

A Message from Governor Janet Napolitano

"Arizona 2-1-1 Online is a new tool to help people get connected with health & human services and emergency response resources in their communities. If you are looking for child care, senior services, counseling, education or other nonprofit or government services, Arizona 2-1-1 Online is a system designed to meet your needs. I encourage you to visit www.az211.gov next time you need information about a community emergency or have questions about health and human services in your area."