Online town hall for FEMA's COVID-19 Burial Assistance Program to be held on Monday

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. – Navajo Nation President Jonathan Nez and Vice President Myron Lizer, in partnership with the Federal Emergency Management Agency, will host an online town hall on Monday, June 14th at 6:00 p.m. (MDT) on the Nez-Lizer Facebook page and YouTube channel to provide information regarding FEMA's COVID-19 burial assistance program for loved ones who lost a family member to COVID-19. The town hall will also air later in the week on local radio stations.

In April, FEMA's COVID-19 Funeral Assistance application opened to the general public to provide financial assistance for COVID-19 related funeral expenses incurred after Jan. 20, 2020. The program was funded under the Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriations Act of 2021 and the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021.

"Since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, we have lost more than 1,300 of our people to COVID-19 on the Navajo Nation. The pandemic has brought grief and financial burden for many of our Navajo families. With the assistance of FEMA, we strongly encourage families who incurred expenses for COVID-19 related funeral expenses to apply through FEMA for financial assistance. The online town hall on Monday will provide more information on the process of submitting an application through FEMA," said President Nez.

FEMA Region 9 Administrator Robert Fenton and the Navajo Nation Division of Social Services will also provide information during Monday's town hall and provide the opportunity for viewers to submit questions. To apply, please call FEMA's COVID-19 Funeral Assistance Line Number at 844-684-6333, Monday through Friday from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. (MDT). For individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing, deafblind, or have speech disabilities, please call 800-462-7585.

To be eligible for funeral assistance through FEMA, you must meet the following conditions:

- The death must have occurred in the United States, including the U.S. territories, and the District of Columbia.
- The death certificate must indicate the death was attributed to COVID-19.

- The applicant must be a U.S. citizen, non-citizen national, or qualified alien who incurred funeral expenses after January 20, 2020.
- There is no requirement for the deceased person to have been a U.S. citizen, non-citizen national, or qualified alien.

If you had COVID-19 funeral expenses, we encourage you to keep and gather documentation.

Types of information should include:

- An official death certificate that attributes the death directly or indirectly to COVID-19 and shows that the death occurred in the United States, including the U.S. territories, and the District of Columbia.
- Funeral expenses documents (receipts, funeral home contract, etc.) that includes the applicant's name, the deceased person's name, the amount of funeral expenses, and the dates the funeral expenses happened.
- Proof of funds received from other sources specifically for use toward funeral costs. We are not able to duplicate benefits received from burial or funeral insurance, financial assistance received from voluntary agencies, government agencies, or other sources.

No online applications will be accepted. According to the FEMA website, it should take about 20 minutes to apply. It is important to gather all necessary information and documentation before applying for assistance.

This will help FEMA to process the application in a timely manner. Once you have applied over the phone and are given an application number, you may provide supporting documentation to FEMA by uploading to your DisasterAssistance.gov account, faxing documents, or mailing the documents.

For more information about eligibility, expenses covered, and other criteria, please visit FEMA's FAQ website at: <https://www.fema.gov/disasters/coronavirus/economic/funeral-assistance/faq>.

"We are very thankful to FEMA for working with our administration to host the town hall. We have many families who are in need of this type of support here on the Navajo Nation. We encourage everyone to carefully read about the eligibility and requirements, to gather their documentation, and submit in accordance with the FEMA guidelines," said Vice President Lizer.

The online town hall will be held on Monday, June 14th at 6:00 p.m. (MDT) on the Nez-Lizer Facebook page and YouTube channel. It will also air on local radio stations later in the week.
